K-12 Special Education: Adapted Curriculum

Admission to Teacher Education

WCU's College of Education and Allied Professions' national accreditation body, Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP), and the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction require established procedures for implementing decisions regarding admission to, and retention in, teacher education programs. Students who plan to receive a degree or certification in education and a teaching license through WCU must apply for and be officially admitted to a teacher education program. This is a separate and distinct application from a student's application to the WCU Graduate School. Acceptance and registration in a department does not guarantee admission to the teacher education program in that department. The application process requires: (1) a formal application; (2) a background check via Certiphi.com (requires fee); (3) acknowledgment of professional dispositions; and (4) completion of the Personality Survey and Diversity Inventory within the electronic portfolio system. Links to forms and detailed instructions for applying to the teacher education program can be found at teachereducationapp.wcu.edu.

Maintaining a 3.0 GPA

Students are required to maintain a WCU GPA of 3.0 or higher in the special education graduate program. A graduate student who accumulates three grades of C, or any grade of F, will be dismissed from the Graduate School. Students in the program must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher to be recommended for licensure by WCU.

edTPA

WCU's teacher education programs use edTPA to demonstrate a record of the ways the student plans instruction, teaches lessons, and assesses and learns from the teaching experience during practicum. These are performance-related, and will be submitted for review to the North Carolina State Board of Education for each program completer. Information on this electronic portfolio can be found at edportfolio.wcu.edu. All students in the Alternative Licensure and MAT programs are required to be enrolled in and maintain a current subscription to the electronic portfolio. Subscription fees are required for the electronic portfolio. Download the requirements within the Clinical Practice Handbook on the Office of Field Experience website.

Practicum/Intern II (SPED 587)

SPED 587 (student teaching/internship/practicum) is designed as a semester-long supervised field experience in an accredited public school setting. Practicum should be completed in the subject and grades of the licensure concentration and should be fulfilled after all other coursework in Phase I is successfully finished. Application for practicum is due to your advisor and the Office of Field Experience early in the semester before you plan to do the practicum (February for Fall practicum, and September for Spring practicum). No late applications will be accepted. Details are sent through Catamount e-mail.

Lateral Entry Teachers/Residency Program

If you are a lateral entry teacher, you may use your own classroom to complete practicum, provided that you are working with the appropriate student population. Lateral entry teachers may not substitute past teaching experience for practicum.

Licensure and the Praxis II

Students must pass the Praxis II exams (5545 and 5511) before applying for initial licensure. Praxis II testing and registration information can be found on the Educational Testing Service website, by selecting North Carolina under "State Testing Requirements."

Successful completion of Phase I of the MAT: Special Education – Adapted Curriculum (including licensure exams and edTPA) leads to eligibility to be recommended for an initial teaching license in K-12 Special Education: Adapted Curriculum (88092). Successful completion of Phase I and Phase II of the MAT: Special Education – Adapted Curriculum leads to eligibility to be recommended for an advanced teaching license in K-12 Special Education: Adapted Curriculum (88092).

To apply for your NC teaching license, you will complete an online application to the Department of Public Instruction (DPI). You can find licensing information, required forms, and supporting materials from WCU's Teacher and School Professional Licensure.

MAT Comprehensive Portfolio

The Comprehensive Portfolio is due in the electronic portfolio system during the last semester of the MAT program (March 15 or October 15). Faculty members from the Special Education program will review and assess your portfolio. For more information, visit edportfolio.wcu.edu.
